It is Won by a Member of the Washington Team.

The Great English Prize Coming to this City-Close of the Meeting at Creedmoor Splendid Record of the Columbia Association Riffemen-

Why they did not Win the Inter-State Trophy.

Laird's Victory at Creedmoor Saturday. Colonel J. O. P. Burnside and his son Mr. J. B. Burnisde, members of the teams sent to Creedmoor by the Columbia Rifle Association, returned to the city Saturday. The meeting of the National Rifle Association closed Saturday, but a tournament has been arranged for the first three days of the present week, to take part in which the other members of the District teams remained at Creedmoor. The success of the District riflemen during the meeting has realized the most sanguine expectations of their friends. The Co., 435 Seventh street northwestmeeting was closed Saturday with the match for the Wimbledon cup. Mr. Charles H. Laird. of the Columbia Rifle Association, won the cup, making the best score, which was 137 out of a possible 150. Dr. S. I. Scott, also a member of the District team, made the second best score—135. Isaac L. Allen, of New York, was third—133—and R. Rathbene, of New York, and Jackson and Gerrich, of the Boston club, were next in order, The distance was 1,000 yards, each contestant baying thirty shots. The Wimbledon cop, thich is a massive silver tankard, was pre-ented to the American riflemen on the ecasion of their visit to the great Wimoccasion of their visit to the great Wim-bledon ranges in Eugland in 1875, and has been annually shot for by the best long-range marksmen in the land. Frank Hyde held it last year, having won it at the meeting in 1878 by making the high score of 147. The scores on Saturday would probably have been several points higher had it not been for a varying and perplexing wind blowing directly from the targets toward the shooting stands. Mr. Laird is a clerk in the Postoffice Department, and one of the Postoffice Department, and one of the youngest members of the Columbia Rifle As-sociation, with which he has been connected ever since its organization. He has made some excellent scores at the ranges at Ben-ning's, having won several valuable prizes, and is rated among the most reliable marks-men in the country. His individual record during the meeting which has just closed at Creedmoor is the best that was made. Having made the best score in the three matches—the short range, championship and Wimbledon contests—he was awarded an "aggregate"

rize, consisting of a valuable barometer.
The Columbia teams made an enviable record in other respects. In the inter-State long-range contest Colonel Burnside made the second best score, which was 213 out of a possible 225, and the team was the fourth in the match. The highest individual score was that made by Gerrish, of Boston, who heat Colonel Burnside by one point. Mr. P. J. Laurittzen, a member of the association, on account of his connection with the Washington Lightin fautry connection with the Washington Lightin fautry ored, have been sent to jail by the mayor of participated only in the military contests, and in Alexandria for the action of the grand jury, the military championship match won the thirteenth prize. The long-range team from the District was composed of Colonel Burnside, C. H. Laird, Dr. S. I. Scott and Professor William H. Harkness. The team went into the inter-State contest under a great disadvantage. Mr. J. M. T. Partello, who has a record of having made a perfect score out of forty-five shots at long range, was selected as a member of the team, but after practicing valued at about $15. from Jane Gordon.

over the ranges at treed noor being dissatisfied with his scores he withdrew from the team. At almost the last moment Professor Harkness day morning, by falling a distance of twenty-was summoned from this city by telegraph, and substituted in Partello's place. Professor Harkness has just recovered from a long illness, and is entirely out of practice. His record was therefore not up to his usual standard.

The complexes of the recording to believe that it.

The members of the association believe that if Partello had remained at his post the team would have secured the inter-State trophy, and the two greatest prizes offered at the meeting, and every other prize worth having having would have been brought to this city. The short-range team of the Saint.
sent by the Columbia Association consisted of P. J. Lauritzen, J. B. Burnside, Dr. S. I. Scott and Captain Ben Chambers, all of whom unall excelling the single-scuil in Potonse, and lent records. The first information of Laird's victory last Saturday was brought to this city by the following dispatch received by Colonei Burnside Saturday afternoon:

"Laird wins cup, 137. Scott second, two points, Hory hallelujah! A. A. ADER." Saturday evening after the match at Creed-moor was ended the presentation of prizes took place at the State Arsenal. President Stanton presided, and many of the teams were present.
Speeches were made by Colonel Gildersleeve

Serious Result of a Street Affray. Between 11 and 12 o'clock yesterday morning two colored men named Charles Washington and James Short became involved in a fight on Seventeenth, between B and C streets agat on Seventeents, between B and C streets southwest, in which the former was worsted. He started to run from his opponent, when the latter nicked up a cobble-stone and threw it at him. The stone missed the object at which it was aimed and struck a little colored girl named Laura Gardner, a speciator. The force of the blow fractured ber skull, and she was taken to the simshouse for treatment. Draws and Fliet made her as comfortable as Dyer and Ellot made her as comfortable as possible, but declined to state what the result of the injury would probably be. The injured child, who is only six years of age, has been unconscious from the time she was struck, and grave double are expressed as to her recovery. Short was paralyzed upon beholding the harm he had done, and made no attempt to escape. Officer Blandford arrested him, and a cell at the Eighth precinct station served as an apart-

Officer Cooper's Prisoner,

Pat, pat, clink, clink, those were the sounds which disturbed the serom thoughts of Officer Cooper, of the Sixth preciact, as he was patroling in the vicinity of K and Eighth streets on Saturday night. Turning to examine into the cause, he saw something slink off in the dark. The officer at once started in pursuit, tracking in Major Richards' yard on Eighth street, But the officer was not to be cheated out of the West End a few months ago.

Also to the open in go without the required parallel to be proved that persons have ocen made sick by the effluvia, and that the gases from the pursuit, for the Sixth precinct, arrested a colored woman named Ann Maria Johnson, on Saturday night. Turning to examine into the cause, he saw something slink off in the dark. The officer at once started in pursuit, tracking in Major Richards' yard on Eighth street, and Pennsylvania avenue, by an attempt made by a woman named Anna January, 1878, and dismissed in September of the same year, but is now renewed. The other in Major Richards' yard on Eighth street, but a few months ago.

his game. Rousing the major and secur-ing a handful of matches he made a rush for the yard. By this time Officer Daly had come to his assistance. Cautiously creeping upon their prey they suddenly struck a light and guzed upon vacancy—no, not va-cancy, for stored away in the furthest corner of the yard was a gray fox with a chain around his neck. They advanced upon the fugitive, but Reynard was not to be caught napping. He suddenly darted between the legs of the advancing party, and then a most interesting game of hide and go seek was the play for the succeeding half hour. Finally the officers got Mr. Fox by the nap of the neck and his four feet and gently conveyed him to the Sixth precinct station, where he is now held waiting iden-tification. He proved quite a source of amuse-ment to the officers, not a fow of whom bewed pet names upon him as he very often ceeded in chewing off a few juckes of shoo leather or bits of finger ends. A crowd quickly gathered and a free-for-all riot began, every man taking a hand in it. While the battle was raging fiercest Officer Aherne, who was in citizens clothes, ran to the spot to stop the fight. He immediately became a shining mark, and one of the rioters threw a stone at him, which struck him in the heat, inflicting a bad scaip wound. The officer made his way to the Seventh precinct station, and Sergeant Holinberger, accompanied by the reserve, proceeded to the scene of battle. A truce had been agreed upon, however, when the relief arrived, and although dingent search was made, none of the perpetrators could be found, having mixed in with the other train-men. Aherne was taken to his residence, No. 210 Massachusetts avenue northwest, and cared for by Dr. Eliot. His head was badly swollen, and he will probably be confined to the louse for several days. It was stated that one of the rioters had his arm broken during the melee, but this could not be substantiated last night.

The great Megatherian Minstrels, under the management of R. M. Hooley, and with Billy Emerson at the head of the hosts of artists and comedians, will open at Ford's Opern-House to-night. Emerson's minstrels form the greatest enterprise of the kind ever set on foot, as the company comprises half a hundred artists all of whom are recognized as stars on the minstrel stage. Every night a bright new programme will be offered, introdeing sketches which have made a litt everywhere. In connection with the arrival of the Megatherian minstrels there will be a grand street parade this morning at ten o'clock. The following is the order of parade: Detachment of police: Major Balchbee; Zouave Drum Corps, twelve in number; brass band, twenty-four in number; R. M. Hooley and Wm. Emerson, comedians and vocalists. The line of march will be as follows: Starting from Ford's Opera-House, Ninth and Cstreets to Pennsylvania avenue, to Seventeenth House.

Miss Adah Richmond's Comic Opera Company will begin a week's engagement at the National this evening in the romantic opera of "Fatiniza." The Washington public have only known the opera through the efforts of a juvenile company, and can have little idea of the grand possibilities it presents when its rendition is entrusted to the hands of able adult artists, such as are comprised by Miss Richmond's company. Wherever the company has produced it, the highest praise has been bestowed upon them by the press. It will be put upon the stage at the National in a fautiless manner, costumes and scenery being especially provided for the occasion.

LUMBER - LUMBER

TO THE PUBLIC:

The burning of our Planing Mills and Lumber Yards, in Salisbury, Md., will not interfere with our business in this city, as our main supply comes from our mills in Virginia. Having recently leased the yard of Messrs. Mohun & Sons and stocked the same, in addition to the Fugitt yard, we claim to have on hand the Largest Stock of Lumber ever offered for sale in this city.
